HUNKER DOWN (small, in or out)  View Video
- Materials: 20-foot length of 1/2-inch soft, synthetic rope, two platforms 6 to 8-inches tall (two halves of a cinder block or two cuts from a downed tree, 8-inches in diameter)
- Method: Two Scouts stand facing each other 12 to 15 feet away on the platforms. On signal, each tries to unbalance the other by either pulling or letting up the tension on the rope. Both must hold onto the rope at all times while trying to unbalance the other. Have a troop tournament, play patrol against patrol, or Scout against Scout as a gathering period activity.
- Scoring: The Scout left standing the longest on their platform while still holding onto their rope wins. If a Scout lets go of the rope, they’re out, even if they’re still standing on their platform.

More ideas at https://boyscouttrail.com/sitemap.asp
Webelos to Scouts BSA Ideas (2 min)

- Have a picnic (or pot luck if inside) so the Pack and Troop can get to know each other. This builds better bonds and lets the Cubs know what the older scouts look like. (idea from the Cub Scout Leaders)

- Have the troop display some picture boards of what they do as a troop. This gets cubs excited to continue and also lets parents know there is more to scouting than just cubs. If there is a crew close invite them as well to show the parents that scouting is for all ages. (idea from the Cub Scout Leaders)

- Have a new Eagle Scout visit a pack and show the items that were used at the Eagle Court of Honor (like a tri-fold) that shows what they did during their years in Scouts BSA

- OA Rep at the Crossover - Have an OA rep dressed in regalia escort the graduating scouts over the bridge to Scouts BSA. The OA Rep can give a short speech on the importance of the graduation and welcoming them and parents into the troop. (idea from the Cub Scout Leaders)

- Hold an Outdoor Activity with the Troop where the Webelos get to see how exciting the adventures become with Scouts BSA
